Delaney Hardware Appoints Founder Michael O'Bryan as Senior Advisor

Mr. O'Bryan will provide strategic advice to Delaney's Management on growth and customer relations

Cumming, GA – May 4, 2020 – Delaney Hardware (“Delaney”), a leading provider of premium builder hardware for residential homes, multi-family buildings, and commercial projects, announced today that it has appointed Delaney’s founder, Michael O’Bryan as Senior Advisor to Delaney’s Board of Directors.

As a division of the Sargent and Greenleaf (“S&G”) family of brands, Delaney’s high-quality product offering and commitment to exceptional customer service distinguishes it within the industry.

Delaney was originally founded by Michael O’Bryan in 1992 and operated from the basement of his home in Cumming, Georgia for the first year. The company’s name is derived from Mr. O’Bryan’s parents, Dick and Elaine O’Bryan. Today, Delaney Hardware proudly serves over 4,000 retail dealers in the US with a 80,000+ sq. ft facility and multi-million dollars of stocked premium hardware.

“We are extremely honored to officially appoint Michael O’Bryan as a Senior Advisor to the company he founded. While Michael sold control of the business in 2016, he has remained in close contact with Delaney’s employees and customers over the years. This agreement formally defines Michael’s role within the organization and will allow Delaney and its customers to benefit from his years of experience,” said Libby Zappala, President of Delaney.

“Delaney is an amazing company that has always been highly focused on customer satisfaction and strong core values. I built the company on these guiding principles and I am happy to see that they are still central to Delaney’s mission. I am delighted to officially serve as Senior Advisor to the Board of Directors and look forward to helping management continue to grow the business,” said Michel O’Bryan, Founder of Delaney.
